The Sacredness of Marriage - cont’d from pg 1

The cry to legalize same sex marriage in several states is increasing; in fact, in many states it has already been declared legal. With the upcoming presidential election, political parties are being challenged to take a stance so that people can decide which party to align with. It is in this context that we have to consider what is the attitude of the faithful towards the issue of same sex marriage? Although this is not a deep study based on the cultural and social aspects of North America, I hope to express my concerns regarding this crucial issue by examining the Biblical perspective of this matter.

First, the Old Testament is very clear as to the origin of two sexes in humankind with God creating us as either male or female. In the creation account as recorded in the book of Genesis 2:7 we read, “And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living being.” However, God found that it was not good for man to live alone and chose to make a helper comparable to him (Genesis 2:18). We further read that the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man, took one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh, used the rib from man to make into a woman, and brought her back to the man (Genesis 2:21-22). In response to this the man said, “This is now bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh. She shall be called woman, because she was taken out of Man” (Genesis 2:23). The chapter concludes with the basic understanding of Christian marriage that is repeated throughout the Sacrament of Holy Matrimony: “Therefore, a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and they shall become one flesh” (Genesis 2:24). It is through this union of a male and female that God calls humankind to participate in the procreative process that would fulfill His commission to also “be fruitful and multiply.” Thus, in light of the creation account we can see that:

1) Both man and woman are the creation of God and procreation is a blessing given to both man and woman by God Himself.
2) Woman is a creation out of man by God in order to make his life complete. Therefore, woman was created as a suitable helper (partner) to man. Essentially, this details that either man alone or woman alone is not a completed creation. In other words, the diversity of gender is a divinely ordered reality.

3) The Old Testament view of marriage was developed in light of the creation narrative. It is clear throughout the Old Testament that marriage between a man and a woman was considered the divinely ordered way of cohabitation and the accepted way of receiving conjugal rights. Sexual union outside of this blessed union was viewed as adultery and severe punishment was laid upon those who were unwilling to follow this divine plan. We read in the book of Leviticus, “If a man lies with a male as he lies with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination. They shall surely be put to death. Their blood shall be
When we look to the New Testament, we see two streams of views regarding marriage as revealed to us by Christ Himself and the Apostle Paul. First, Jesus Christ expressed His views regarding marriage while dealing with the issue of divorce. Though the primary issue at hand was divorce, Christ emphasized the inseparability of marriage between man and woman. Some Pharisees asked Him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for just any reason?” (St. Matthew 19:3). Jesus replied to them, “Have you not read that He who made them at the beginning ‘made them male and female,’ and said, ‘For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh?’ So then, they are no longer two but one flesh. Therefore, what God has joined together, let not man separate” (St. Matthew 19:4-6). The marriage which is referred to is defined as a relationship between a male and a female. It is important that Jesus refers back to the Genesis account of creation and God’s plan for humankind in his answer to the perennial question about divorce. From His response one thing is made very clear to us: a marriage of the same sex is out of context in Jesus’ teaching on the matter.

St. Paul in his first letter to the Corinthians also details some principles regarding marriage and sex. For St. Paul, marriage is one way of living whereby the husband and wife meet their sexual needs (1 Corinthians 7). He also understood marriage as a kind of mutual giving to the extent that the wife has the authority over the body of the husband and vice versa. His view about marriage is again made clear in Ephesians 5:22-33 where he urges the husband and wife to love each other just as Christ loved the Church and gave Himself for her. By using the analogy of Christ and the Church as husband and wife, St. Paul accentuates the great commitment involved in marriage. Essentially, marriage as revealed to us by the Spirit and understood by St. Paul is a relationship between a man and woman.

For St. Paul, sexual relation outside the context of marriage is a sin. He enlists a variety of people having sexual behavior that is not viewed in marriage (1 Corinthians 6:9-10; cf. 5:11-13) and categorizes them into three categories of perverted sex. “Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators [Gk: paramours], nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate [Gk: catamites], nor abusers of themselves with mankind [Gk: sodomites] nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners shall inherit the kingdom of God” (I Corinthians 6:9-10).

Eternal salvation is the whole goal of our earthly life. It is a goal that requires a constant striving, for it is not easy to be a Christian. The influence of our society makes it extremely hard, but I hope and pray our faithful will live and respond to the pressures of society on same sex marriage with the teachings of Scripture as understood by the Holy Church.

MGOCSM Round-up

Detroit MGOCSM - "NOVO: Revive Yourself"

Detroit MGOCSM is moving forward into a new chapter of its ministry this fall. Leadership Camp Detroit 2012 set the tone for this new chapter. With the theme "Alter Your Perception", now adopted by many of the MGOCSM members, Detroit is aiming to bring a revival to the area. The Back To School Conference was held August 31-September 3, 2012. The theme for this conference was "Novo: Revive Yourself". The main speaker was Detroit Youth Minister, Fr. James Cheriyan. In addition, campus ministry has begun once again this school year. At these campus ministry meetings, James Achen strives to bring Orthodoxy to the college life and encourage students to be active in their faith during the school year. It has been a great blessing to also welcome members of the local Coptic Orthodox church to these meetings. Lastly, council member elections were conducted in September - the newly elected Detroit Council Member for 2013-2014 is Shannon Mathew. In upcoming months, Detroit MGOCSM hopes to involve several new members in its projects and bring a true revival to the area.

MGOCSM Eastern Region- 'Qudosh Idto' Conference

The members of MGOCSM mainly from Florida and Georgia gathered during Labor Day weekend for a time of fellowship and worship. In attendance were 76 MGOCSM youth from the Southeast region. They converged at a camp Fruitland Park, FL. To help guide the retreat was Father Daoud Tawadrous from St. Anthony Coptic Orthodox Church as well as the keynote speaker - Father Alexander Kurien from Washington D.C. Other regional parish priests present at the retreat were Father George Daniel and Father George Paulose. The MGOCSM conveners were Sonia Kallarakal of Tampa, Florida and Joseph Joy of Atlanta, GA.

The theme was taken from the verses from Job 8:8-9, “For inquire about the former generation and search among the race of our fathers; For we are of yesterday and know nothing…” The hope and purpose of the camp was to enable the youth to reflect on the history of the church through looking at the faith of “The Revivers” (church fathers) giving them a strong appreciation for their heritage and propelling them to a productive future in the church.

It was a blessing to have Father Alexander Kurien celebrate the Holy Liturgy. ‘Idtho means “sanctification”, and that is exactly what happened to all who were touched by God during this retreat. We were sanctified by the power and presence of the One Triune God.

Dallas MGOCSM : Team Christ 2012

The 9th annual Team Christ Camp hosted by the Dallas area MGOCSM was held on Labor Day Weekend 2012 at Camp El Har in Dallas, Texas. The theme for the camp was “The Time is Now” which is taken from Romans 13:11 which says “Do this, knowing the time, that it is already the time for you to awaken from sleep; for now salvation is nearer to us than when we believed.”

The camp’s keynote speaker was Reverend Father Vijay Abraham Thomas, the MGOCSM General Secretary. Also in attendance were Dallas Area Youth Minister Rev. Fr. Mat Alexander, Rev. Dn. Shaun Mathew, and Bincy Alexander Thomas Kochamma. Campers that were in attendance were from the Dallas area as well as Houston.

The camp lasted three days and there was a full schedule full of many items that kept the campers busy and engaged in the camp. The main activity that the groups did was an obstacle course that encouraged teamwork in order to accomplish the tasks given to them. Saturday night was the camp’s retreat time in which Holy Confession, counseling, chanting, and Bible reading were all offered. Holy Qurbana was celebrated on Sunday by Rev Fr. Vijay Thomas and assisted by Rev. Fr. Mat Alexander.

Next year will be the 10 year anniversary of Team Christ and the area seeks to make this a big conference that reunites all the campers from the past Team Christ Camps as well as bring in new campers. More information on the tenth annual Team Christ will be released in the near future.

It is the yearning of every immigrant, who moves to a new country to continue their faith and traditions in their new homeland. Malankara Orthodox Christians began immigration to Canada as early as the 1960s and 70s and settled down in different provinces. A good number of them settled in Edmonton, Calgary and other parts of Alberta. In the 80s, the Malankara Orthodox Christians in Edmonton, the capital city of Alberta, were able to establish a church in the name of the first canonized saint of Malankara Orthodox Church, St. Gregorios of Parumala. The Calgary community, inspired by the establishment of the parish in Edmonton, organized more frequent prayer meetings at their homes in our tradition as time permitted. These spiritual gatherings progressed to occasional Holy Qurbana led by Clergy from Edmonton and other parishes in North America.

This arrangement continued till 2000 when the Diocesan Bishop H.G Makarios, at the request of the community, directed the Edmonton Parish priest Rev. Fr. Lazarus to begin work towards establishing a dedicated congregation in Calgary. On St. Thomas Day, December 21st 2002 the Calgary congregation was blessed to be elevated to a full-fledged parish in the name of St. Mary by the Diocesan Metropolitan. The occasion was graced by the presence of Clergy and laity from Edmonton and other local congregation including Ethiopian and Orthodox Church in America (OCA).

The Parish continued to have monthly Holy Qurbana led by Fr. Lazarus and followed by Fr. Philipose Philipose from Edmonton. It officially came under the South West Diocese of North America in 2009 during the reorganization of Malankara Orthodox Dioceses. The parish which started off with about 10 families has now around 45 families attending the Church, with more and more immigrants having moved to Calgary in the past few years.

The continual growth over the last decade warranted the need for a dedicated Spiritual father to nourish the life of the Parish. The Diocesan Bishop H.G Alexios Mar Eusebius appointed Fr. Binny M. Kuruvilla as a full time resident priest from August 15, 2010 to fulfill this role. The Parish is now blessed to have regular weekly Holy Qurbana service at a rented Church building with the last service of the month in English. Spiritual organizations continue to actively encourage and strengthen the participation in the sacramental life of the Church. Children and adults very actively participate in Sunday school, MGOCSM, Balika Bala Samajam and Morth Mariam Samajam respectively. As the church keeps growing and to become firmly rooted in Calgary as an Orthodox Christian community accessible to all, the parish earnestly looks forward with prayers to owning a permanent place of worship.
